Link to the internet archive upload of the book:

And a link to the NYT's original review of the novel:

And finally, an NEA retrospective on the book:

As a Gen Xer, I feel compelled to add to the NEA's list of art inspired by the novel: Rage Against the Machine covered "The Ghost of Tom Joad" in 2000. Both the Springsteen and RATM version are worth a listen, of course as is Woody Guthrie's "Ballad of Tom Joad!" All are available on Youtube!
